Some comments sent to me by a Nepalese student about COBE in the CBD

I was in the College of Business and Economics which was held in different campuses in the city

Each semester has 4 subjects and some of them were taught in different locations in the city area

We paid so much money and most of the classes were online and recorded lectures were given from 2020 for 2022 classes and the lecture materials were outdated

Most of my classes were in city and at different locations and some of the classes were only taught once a month and only few were every week

Uni provided limited study materials such as lecture slides or other journals

There was one subject and we are required to run the formula to a software to get answers and uni didn't even pay for the subscription and asked the students to do this on our own, we had to because we would have failed the finals if we didn't

Teachers were experienced and they were all good
